DESERT AND OCEAN.
TWO LITTLE TEXAS GIRLS.
IF ADAM COULD SEE HIS CHINESE WORM TURNS

—By Arthur Brisbane—(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THIS IS WRITTEN in the office of the Santa Barbara Morning Press, and will run by R. O.
Fernald and leading its competitor in circulation, which has increased 40 per cent since O. A. Martin became managing editor five years ago.

Santa Barbara, almost too beautiful to be real, is about half way on today's automobile journey from the Mo-jave desert, back of the mountains on the highland, to San Simon, at the ocean's edge north-half way to San Francisco.

THIS IS A LAND OF long distances. Today's run of 300 miles is an average trip. Presently, when the new highway is built, from Seattle, along the Pacific, through Washington, Oregon, California, Mexico and on down to Panama, you will be able to take a long ride out here.

About 1,000 miles, in a straight line, on perfect roads, is all you can present.

Crossing the desert, east of the mountains going north, to the pass leading to Ventura, you see many abandoned ranches, where men have learned that fighting the desert is hard always, and without abundant water, hopeless.

ROOFS HAVE FALLEN in, windows gone, fences down, sage brush, greasewood and cactus creeping back over land once cleared. Liar-ards, jack rabbits, huge desert turtles and coyotes again taking possession. Each abandoned ranch tells of years of hard, wasted work, and hope at last abandoned.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT problem is visible, even on the desert roads.
Men, seeking work, walk wearily, the young men carrying nothing.
The older men, familiar with a hard life, carry heavy bundles, often as big as the man, bedding, extra shoes, etc. Their lot is made harder by the wave of crime, which makes automobile drivers afraid to carry their less fortunate fellow men. Stories of good-natured drivers, robbed, or shot and robbed as a result of "giving a lift" cause the majority to harden their hearts and drive on.

Among desert traveling cars, passed on a fast drive, is one of small, well-known make, almost as old as the two 10-year-old girls in it. The license plate reads Texas. Strong, independent faces those girls have, the driver lifts her thin left arm in friendly salute as you pass.

THEY DO NOT FOLLOW the mountain line north but go straight on to the Canyon pass, headed for Hollywood. They dream that they will soon be asking Navarro, Barrymore, Gilbert or some handsome entity "Wherefore art thou Romeo?" But, sad reality, they will be asking themselves, "Wherefore didst thou leave Texas?"

FOR AWHILE THEY WILL learn about life, working in some hospitable Los Angeles cafeteria. Then two Texas boys, very unlike Navarro, Barrymore or Gilbert, will come after them, and they will live happily ever after, with many little Texas babies, and a happier career, than movies can offer.

They are quite safe in their rattling car, on the desert. Each has her little gun, and each would bore holes in any over-dramatized person, with a nonchalance that would make Mr. Murad seem all excited.

YOU DRIVE ABOUT 100 miles, a cold wind blowing over snow covered mountains on your left, then suddenly the mountains open, and a white valley leads down to Ventura and the ocean.
In that valley are hedges of roses in bloom 30 feet high, miles of walnut trees and orange groves, and far up on the hillsides, hundreds of oil wells, spouting out wealth, thousands of dollars a day, from individual wells.

Scheme To Escape Prison Revealed

AUBURN, N. Y., April 5.—A wild scheme for another attempt at a jail delivery in Auburn prison—this time with machine gun assistance from the outside—was revealed late Friday.

The plot which included the help of a large force of armed gangsters who would attack the prison guards was charged by Acting Warden Frank L. Heacock today in dismissing the guard, and transferring four others.

Warden Heacock immediately began a probe of the reported plot which was said to link underworld characters and Auburn residents.

Horses Burned

ZANESVILLE, April 5.—Officials today were trying to determine the origin of a fire that destroyed the Hugh White Riding academy near here. Loss, including 17 horses, was estimated at $17,000.

A REAL SURPRISE. SEE FIN-

FIRE MENACE IS CONSIDERED NOW

Cap May Blow from Over
Well To Start Fire;
Would Spread

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 5.— Hurling aside man's puny mechanical contrivances, which for seven hours held the recalcitrant gusher, the Mary Sudik No. 1 under control, the well early today again resumed its wild rampage, flaunting a rumbling pillar of petroleum over the south Oklahoma City field.

The big well smashed out of control at 1:05 a. m. after a specially constructed master gate, known as an "overshot" began to leak.

These leaks widened rapidly; anchor bolts creaked and the whole structure began to give way. Fearing that the "overshot" would be ripped loose and sent smashing up through the 122 foot steel derrick, the men who had been stationed to watch the well through the night, flung open the valves and the column of oil and gas again spurred high over the crownblock and spattered down over the already oil-soaked countryside.

Darkness a Handicap Handicapped by the darkness in which they were forced to work, the men at the well were helpless to immediately attempt to further confine the gusher again.

W. P. Sutton, field superintendent for the I. T. I. O. company, owner of the well said the "over-shot" probably was hanging by just a few screws, but that with all of the valves open, it probably would not be blown loose.

Wary workers, who last night conquered the well after nine days of battling, scrambled for their beds and hurried to the lease, ready to resume their fight.

The grim terror of the oil fields—fire—hovered even closer about the wild well today, for, the workers pointed out, if the big cap should be blown off by the force of the gas and sent smashing into the tip of the steel derrick, sparks from the impact might fire the hissing oil and gas.

With the territory for miles around saturated with oil, flames probably would sweep over the countryside, licking along the ground from pool to pool of oil, spewed out by the big gushers.

HAWKS ENROUTE TO CLEVELAND

Glider on Flight Across Continent Hops From Columbus Port

COLUMBUS, O., April 5.—Captain Frank Hawk, trans-continental glider flyer took off from Port Columbus at 8:44 a. m. today for Cleveland on the fourth from the last leg of his flight from San Diego, Cal., to New York.

Hawk was delayed in starting by discovery of a bruise given his toe by the towing plane in landing last night. Repairs were made and then the flyer took off gracefully before a small crowd of spectators.

Cleveland was the first stop on today's flight. There the tow plane, piloted by Duke Jerrigan, will be refueled while the flyers attend a dinner after which they will proceed to Buffalo to spend the night. Continuing eastward Sunday, the flyers will stop at Elmira, N. Y., for another refueling of the two planes, and then fly to New York City where the novel journey will end.

Hawks and Nernigan arrived at Port Columbus last night at 6:30 from Indianapolis where they stopped after being forced down near Terre Haute when a tow-cable broke.

Former Salem Man Visits From China

Samuel Church, who has spent several years in China and Japan, arrived in Salem Friday to visit his mother, Mrs. W. P. Church. He came by way of Vancouver.

Church, representing American banking interests, has spent the last five years in China and Japan. This is his second trip home in about 19 years and he expects to return to China after a few months.

Liquor Trial Set For Next Thursday

with unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors will appear before Mayor J. M. Davidson for trial at of not guilty to the charge and was

DISCORD EXISTS ING. O. P. RANKS

Ohio Caucus Results In Flares; Bettman, Ake
Are Endorsed

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 5.—The seventh congressional district Republican caucus, which was held here last yesterday, today had won the seed of discord in the mind of at least one prominent Republican, if not more.

Charges of "steam-roller" tactics in adoption of resolutions supporting certain candidates were hurled by Arthur Todd, Springfield attorney.

Todd, according to the reports, endeavored to obtain the floor when a resolution endorsing Congressman Brand, of Urbana, was submitted.
In a verbal attack later, Todd declared that he was not allowed to voice his opinions before the adoption of the resolution but was given the floor after it had been passed when "it was too late to change things."

The attorney declared that "this is a most unusual action, when two other worthy Republican gentlemen, Senator Marshall, of Greene county and Judge Harry Gram, of Clarke county, are also candidates for representation from this district."

Resolutions endorsing State Auditor Joseph Tracy, State Treasurer H. Ross Ake, and Attorney General Gilbert Bettman were also passed and it was recommended that Charles Wagoner, Lebanon banker, be appointed U. S. Marshal for the southern district of Ohio.

V. F. W. To Sponsor "Buddy Poppy" Sale

The "Buddy" poppy is to be sold in Salem on Saturday, May 24, under the auspices of the Allen Reynolds post No. 892, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The "Buddy" poppy is made by the disabled American soldiers who are patients in hospitals throughout the United States. Those to be sold in Salem, are made by veterans in hospitals at Ohio.

The veterans who make these poppies receive no compensation and no means of support as they are unable to trace their disabilities to service connections. Many have families to support but due to their condition are forced to go to the various hospitals for treatment.
The small amount they receive for making these poppies gives many their only means of securing cloths and other articles of use for themselves and their families.

Want New Jail

AKRON, April 5.—Carrying out an order by the Summit county grand jury, the board of county commissioners will submit to November voters a $50,000 bond issue for a new prison to relieve crowded conditions in the present building.

200 Pythians Will Attend Event Here

this event. Lunch will be served.

NAVY MEETING TO END SOON IN 3-WAY TREATY

Delegates Feel End Is In Sight; Americans

MAY MEET AGAIN DURING SUMMER

Wander Far from Topic
In Discussions of Past Week in London

LONDON, April 5.—The naval conference probably will end in a fortnight with a three-power treaty signed, a five-power pact appears hopeful at this time because of the complex European issues involved.
It appeared today.

It is thought possible that the nations represented here may agree to meet again some time in the summer, at a place to be selected, to discuss the highly important issues that have come up here relative to the peace organization of Europe.

The conference in the last week has been talking about everything but naval treaties. Security formulae, and other treaties and peace organizations have been discussed and surried over and nothing tangible has resulted. Some of the leaders appear to be convinced that political treaties and negotiation treaties will not mix, and they want to be done with the experiment.

The Americans have tentatively arranged for passage home the twenty-second of this month. Before they leave they most likely will sign a treaty with Japan and Britain.
In the meantime, a sincere effort will be made to iron out the ruffled European situation, and lay the plans for probable political discussions in the near future.

HOOVER FISHES OVER WEEK-END

First Time Out Results In Nice Creel of Trout; Angling Today

MADISON, VA., April 5.—A rugged day in the out-of-doors, whipping the swift currents and quiet pools of the Rapidan for elusive trout, today brought President Hoover a welcome change from the daily grind of the presidency.

His first week-end fishing trip was to a box of flies from which he must select the most enticing lures.

It was Mr. Hoover's first weekend visit of the season to his fishing preserve in the Blue Ridge and his first trip to the camp since he had Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, here as a guest for a discussion of weighty affairs.

With his party, Mr. Hoover reached the camp shortly before sunset last night and lost no time in letting the wily mountain trout know that their months of security were at an end.

A well-filled creel and a sharp appetite for dinner were his reward.
Other members of the official party also had a good catch to show.

Township Trustees At State Meeting

Perry township trustees probably will be represented when the Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks holds a sectional meeting at 10 a. m. Wednesday in Niles at the McKinley Memorial auditorium here.

Joseph Thomas, president of the state association, will be one speaker.
Gilbert Bettman, attorney general; J. T. Tracy, state auditor, and Dr. William B. Guiteau, editor of "Better Highways" magazine are scheduled on the program.

Woman Held After Shooting Fighter

CLEVELAND, April 5.—Suffering a bullet wound after an alleged family quarrel, Frank Musarra, 28, father of three children was near death in a hospital today.
Mrs. Josephine Olivera, 28, mother of six children and sister-in-law of the wounded man was arrested. Police said she admitted shooting the man last night to protect her husband, John, after the two men engaged in a rough and tumble fight.

Poultry Farms Lose Stock In Robberies

During the last few weeks the Sarah Birch poultry farm on the New Waterford-Columbiana road has been robbed and 127 chickens have been stolen.

The poultry thieves that have been operating in Columbiana county have been stealing the stock in both the Youngstown and Canton markets. It is said, depending upon the closeness of the market to the scene of the robberies.

QUEEN VICTORIA OF SWEDEN DIES IN ROMAN VILLA

King, Prince At Beside As End Comes To

BRONCHIAL AILMENT CAUSED HER DEATH

Had Traveled Far To Find Spot Suitable For
Her Health

ROME, April 5.—Services were held at the German church today for Queen Victoria of Sweden, who died yesterday in the villa here where she has been wont to come for years to escape the rigorous climate of Sweden and look upon her favorite garden of roses.

The queen long had been a sufferer from a bronchial ailment and for months she had been an invalid.
She was 68 years old. King Gustav and Prince Wilhelm, her youngest sons were at her bedside when she passed away.

Premier Mussolini sent a guard of honor to the villa last night to remain on duty until the queen's body is placed on a special train to start on the journey back to Sweden.
King Victor Emanuel and Queen Helena went to the villa where in company with King Gustav, they paid homage to the dead queen.

The queen, since she ascended the throne with Gustav in 1907 had traveled far and wide, seeking an agreeable climate, sometime in Egypt or Algeria she had recorded some of her impressions in a book illustrated with photographs taken by her own camera, called "A Diary of The Nile."

She was of brilliant mind, and often during her illness here, when she would be well enough to get out into the garden she would sit and make notes with the apparent hope that she would be able to write again.

FLIER BELIEVED DASHING ACROSS UNITED STATES

Set Out from Los Angeles
On Non-Stop Trip
To Atlantic

WICHITA, KAN., April 5.—A. W.
Mooney, Wichita aviator and aircraft manufacturer, who set out from Los Angeles on a secret non-stop flight from coast to coast, today was believed to be winging his way eastward toward New York.

Although Mooney was last heard from over Albuquerque, N. M., yesterday, it is believed here that he is still in the air.

The lone aviator took off from Los Angeles at dawn yesterday in a light low wing monoplane powered with a 150 horsepower motor. The plane is of his own design and carried 180 gallons of gasoline. Mooney expected to average 100 miles an hour, thus completing the flight in 22 hours.

His takeoff at Los Angeles was witnessed by an official timer and a hand full of mechanics. Mooney's attempt to keep the flight a secret was prompted by the fact that he did not want it known should he fail to reach his goal.

Before his takeoff Mooney advised factory officials here that he planned to follow the southern route which would take him over Wichita.
He requested them to keep the flight a secret.

TWO KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES

Authorities Investigate Cause Of Accident Which Takes Life Of Corporation President

GARDEN CITY, April 5.—Authorities today sought the cause of an accident in which T. Worden Hunter, president of the Bach Aircraft corporation of Van Nuys, Calif., and his pilot, R. W. MacCal-lister, were killed when their airplane fell and burned.

They were returning yesterday from Bethany Conn., and were maneuvering for a landing at Roosevelt field, three quarters of a mile from here, witnesses said, when the left wing of their three-motored Bach monoplane appeared to come loose and the plane dived about 300 feet nose-foremost with its motors roaring.

Heads Board

REAR ADMIRAL MARK L. DICKIN, former U. S. high commissioner to Turkey and one of America's outstanding naval figures, was appointed by the navy department as chairman of the general admiralty board which guides the destinies of the United States navy. Admiral Bristol is 61 years old and served in the Spanish American and World wars as a commander of battleships.

ADULTS TOPIC OF EDUCATORS IN CONFERENCE

Would Bar Intellectually Inadequate From All Universities

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 5.—Adult education will advance just in proportion as formal education, from the kindergarten through the university, advances, Frederick P. Keppel, Carnegie foundation, New York, told the tenth annual Ohio state educational conference today.

"Adult education," he said, "became less of a second grade article provided for the underprivileged and become more general in connection with the needs of the individual in the development of his career."

Meanwhile, he added, "non-vocational adult education must develop better facilities, improve its techniques and reach a clearer understanding of the place of creative work and of the value of discussion of direct sources of interest in an educational program that continues beyond the confines of the formal school."

Professor Keppel's address was one of a number of the closing sessions of the conference. Another speaker was Dean Shaler Mathews of the Chicago university school of divinity.

Defending the opinion that the nation's educational institutions should be open to all, Dean William F. Russell of Columbia university's teachers' college declared that "anything else would be contrary to the ideals upon which our country was founded."

Professor R. M. Hutchins of the university of Chicago expressed the view that college doors should be closed to the intellectually inadequate on broad social grounds.

GANDHI REACHES END OF JOURNEY

Will Manufacture Salt In Defiance of British Government Rule

BOMBAY, April 5.—Ending his long and fatiguing march from Ahmadabad, Mahatma Gandhi arrived with 82 faithful followers today at his destination on the shores of the Bay of Cambay and pitched camp to rest until tomorrow when he intends to defy the government and manufacture salt.

The independence leader set up his camp in the small and ragged town of Bandi, a collection of ramshackle buildings in the salt marshes, accessible only by a rough and bullock cart rutted road. On the last leg of his march he was accompanied by numerous sympathizers who rode in gaily bedecked and placarded bullock carts.

A large police force has been detailed to duty along the bay shore to prevent possible disorders. While Gandhi has been openly defying the authorities to arrest him, it is understood he will not be molested unless it is considered necessary to maintain order.

A check-up today disclosed that more than 50, including several police were hurt in yesterday's riots here when police were forced to charge into an unruly gang of demonstrating strikers. The railroad station where the clash occurred, is heavily guarded today.

Hears Tax Appeal

FINDLAY, April 5.—Samuel Hudson, Columbus, representing the state tax commission, was here today to hear an appeal of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company from an increase in its tax valuation for 1929. The valuation has been increased from $8,859 to $18,750.

NO OPERATOR IN HOUSE AT TIME

Plant Second Largest To Be Taken In County
By Barlow

LISBON, April 5.—Sheriff W. J.
Barlow reported today that he confiscated one of the largest distilleries he has discovered, since entering office, when he raided a Commerce st. house in Wellsville Friday afternoon. The house was unoccupied at the time.

In addition to a 100 gallon still, the sheriff and his deputies found 60 gallons of alleged liquor, 59 barrels of mash, 900 pounds of corn sugar, 45 pounds of yeast, 2 cans of carbonated ammonia, 54 five-gallon tins and heating equipment.

The still was in operation at the time the officers arrived.

No arrests were made.
The raid resulted in the second largest still to be taken by the sheriff in this county. The largest was confiscated several months ago when it was discovered in a heavily wooded valley in the hills back of Wellsville after a systematic search of several weeks.

One man is serving a term in the Ohio state penitentiary at present for the operation of the still. He was present when the sheriff made the raid.

Deputies George Harroff and William Virden accompanied Sheriff Barlow in the Wellsville raid.

ECONOMIC PORTRAYAL

One of the most penetrating critiques of economic conditions in the United States ever prepared was contained in a recent address delivered under the auspices of the Comité National d'Etude Sociales et Politiques, of Paris, by Andre Siegfried, Professor Siegfried, who had written an outstanding study of American entitled, "America Comes of Age," has taken full advantage of his position as an impartial observer and delineated trends of economic thought and action which are not often given voice in economic information given the general public.

If it be permissible to assume that Professor Siegfried had had some text in mind, it might have been this thought, contained in a concluding paragraph of his address: "The United States is geared to a rising market. National psychology functions only when there is a real or an imaginary boom. If matters do not advance, Americans become discouraged. They demand that tomorrow be richer than today, that the totals of today be greater than those of yesterday."

An American economist, thinking in a similar vein, said:

"Today's prosperity is conceivable only as a function of tomorrow's; that is, if people came to believe that tomorrow would not be prosperous, today's prosperity would vanish. The United States is adapted to living and acting in a period of rising tide. If the sea is stationary, the situation is difficult. Americans must come to react differently to all the aspects of production and distribution."

Professor Siegfried characterizes American industry as "an ultra-costly industrial mechanism demanding vast capital, and workmen extremely highly paid who turn out cheap products." Equality among men is not actuality, because everyone serves, not other men, but a principle—production. And the service done in behalf of production is unlimited. The best talent of the nation is offered to strengthen its processes and the unceasing cry of "More! More!" has started an avalanche of single-centered effort which cannot be stopped—not even retarded or accelerated without panic or foolish enthusiasm. Americans, in a manner of speaking, are helpless in the clutches of the thing they have created. In the past few years so exacting have been production's demands that there has been, for the first time, questioning of ways and means to guide production more sanely.

Since the American system makes it more and more difficult because of the vast supply of products and increasing competition. It follows then that the economies realized in production will be offset eventually by the mounting cost of sales, advertising and distribution. An approach to this condition is evident in many industries now. Again the American attitude, as described by Professor Siegfried, causes difficulty. It is impossible to increase selling prices because producers fear for tomorrow's prosperity. Similarly, it is impossible to reduce production costs too far because of the curtailment of the workers' buying power.

Professor Siegfried, analyzing these trends and many others, summarizes the general condition of the country as follows:

The healthy as well as the unhealthy aspects of the situation of the United States remain: that is, the condition of trade is sound, there are no surplus stocks, the credit situation appears good for business, the overproduction which we have observed for two years still exists and has not materially diminished. . . . While not menaced with a sensational crises involving failures, bankruptcies and more suicides, the United States faces several months, and perhaps more, of general economic troubles during which production will be in danger of exceeding the possibilities of consumption."

These opinions, coming from a recognized authority, merit careful attention. They are not at variance with views of economic conditions expressed by eminent Americans; they merely penetrate deeper and describe general trends rather than specific conditions. They are secondary in importance, perhaps, to the immediate problem of employment, but upon recognition of the truths contained in them depends to a considerable extent the solution of that problem and many others which will arise to trouble a nation whose ideal is a constantly increasing tempo of production rhythm.

Building fireproof hotels and taking out fire insurance on them is all right, so why shouldn't the nations at the naval parley prepare for the war that is never to come?

What Others Say

CANDOR IN CONGRESS

One of the most rigid of the parliamentary rules of congress prescribes that in debate any unwelcome or concealed "motive" actuating a member shall not be imputed to him. The sound reason back of this restriction is evident, for if members could be free to shout in each other's faces the real forces or motives which impel them to vote one way or another, the famous old duelling ground at Bladensburg might find itself set up in business again. Sometimes, however, the statesman himself lets the cat out of the bag, and when he does of course it is all right. Thus in the case of Senator Cole L. Blease, of South Carolina, Judge James A. Cobb, of the municipal court, a respected negro, had been nominated for a second term, and Blease started in to filibuster against his confirmation. The hour was getting late, and Majority Leader Watson appealed to Blease to withdraw his objection, pointing out that Judge Cobb's term expired at midnight. "Well, I know that," shouted the South Carolinian, "but if I let this nomination go through my term would expire on March 4, 1931."

The nomination was not confirmed, but efforts to confirm Judge Cobb will be renewed, even if they may result in depriving the senate of the society of Mr. Blease.—Boston Transcript.

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue of April 5, 1910)
The old log frame building on West Main st., occupied on the east side by Davis Morningstar's bottling works, and in the west side by Charles Whitcomb, as a residence, and known as the oldest building in Salem, is undergoing extensive improvements. The carpenters say that the timber in the house is so well seasoned that it is as substantial as new material.

An old resident of Salem is authority for the record that 33 years ago Wednesday morning there was six inches of snow on the ground in Ohio. The snow did not damage the fruit crop of which there was an abundance that year.

Miss Ada Zimmerman and Simon A. Shive were united in marriage Wednesday evening by Rev. E. E. Whitaker. Mr. Shive is a carpenter by vocation.

Mrs. Mattie Randolph and Miss Emma Long, of Lipscomb, Texas, arrived in Salem Wednesday and will visit at the home of D. C. Robinson, West Main st.

H. H. Gillingham, general manager of the American Case and Register company, has moved his family to this city and will live on McKinley ave.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. French and J. M. Ashhead, of this city, attended the funeral of Nathan M. Kirk at Mook Wednesday.

Jack Hole left Tuesday night for Massachusetts to join the New England states league for the coming season.

Miss Bessie Barton has resigned her position at Fawcett's and next Monday will resume her duties at Taylor's bakery.

Scott Chisholm, substitute carrier at the local postoffice, entertained his fellow employees at a theater party Tuesday evening.

Another good gas well was drilled Wednesday morning in the Damascus field. This well is located on the J. B. Naylor farm.

Mrs. James Torgard and daughter, Lois, returned to their home in Pittsburgh Wednesday, having been here to attend the Commercial Travelers Memorial services.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

"AIRING-OUT" DISEASE

Our grandmothers were wise in their day and generation. They may not have known the scientific reasons for doing many things, but they used good common sense in the making of a home and protecting the family health.

How many there are today who overlook the importance of having the bedrooms of the house exposed to the sunshine. For those who live in the city this is not always possible, but for those who are building a home should be one of the first things to be thought of in its planning.

We know now, from a scientific standpoint, the real value of sunlight. But without knowing just why, the earliest Greeks worshipped it and provided for living in it at all times.

Perhaps the most important thing in the life of man, along with proper food, is good, restful sleep. When you have adequate sleep, you are building up vital energy and resistance to disease.

You cannot have the right sort of sleep if you haven't a comfortable bed. When your mattress sags in the middle, your bed springs begin to give out, and your pillows, too, are the worse for wear, it is about time to do something about it.

Put the money you might spend on some luxury into the very necessary adjuncts of your sleeping quarters. Mattresses should be made over, but for sanitary reasons, if no other, your mattresses should be taken in hand at regular intervals. Sound sleep is conducive to good health. You cannot sleep without the comfort of good beds and warm enough coverings.

Our grandmothers knew the value of sunlight and fresh air. They always used to hang the bedding out of doors in the sun "to air". Sun has the power to kill germs of tuberculosis, of pneumonia, and many other diseases.

Cleanliness is the finest disinfectant known. Disease cannot resist cleanliness, fresh air and sunshine. It is a good thing today that housecleaning is a thing of weekly occurrence, rather than a "spring cleaning" as it was in grandmother's day. One should not overlook the fact that the bed and springs should be washed thoroughly occasionally with good soap and water so as to remove dirt and dust.

Give the mattress a good dusting and shaking out in the sun along with all the other bedding, if it is a possible thing.

Germs are everywhere present. They thrive on dust and dirt. Florence Nightingale, that wonderful nurse of the Crimean War, said to her nurses: "You cannot lock-in or lock-out the infectious poison; you cannot wall out infection. You can air it out, diffuse it and clean it away. Cleanliness and fresh air do so much for the life as they are life itself to the patient. Cleanliness—clean air, clean water, clean surroundings and a fresh atmosphere everywhere—are the true safeguards against infection."

No trouble is too great to expend on having a sleeping room that gives perfect comfort. Have sunshine, if possible, make every effort to have it, for you are adding years to life for yourself and for the various members of your family.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, April 6
Sunday's horoscope shows a rather conflicting state of affairs, with restless and peculiar conditions and stubborn obstacles, despite much liveliness and some benefits.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of conflicting circumstances, with much high activity, some benefits but many setbacks and annoyances. These in employment are under special menace.

A child born on this day should be extremely lively and progressive, but may be called upon to surmount many tenacious obstacles and unforeseen perils in its affairs.

For Monday, April 7
Monday's astrological chart holds portent of some singular or erratic personal experiences and some very lively adventures in general affairs. Only well-governed conduct, wise insight and precaution in all manner of activities may obviate anxieties and peculiar complications.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of peculiar experiences of a personal nature and of many business perils. But much depends on their own wisdom, discretion and good management of all the affairs.

A child born on this day may be exceedingly lively and adventuresome, given to personal indulgences and excesses which may prove its undoing, unless it be wisely trained in youth.

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

One of the many interesting scenes that have been presented in the Ohio senate chamber, was staged there on April 11, 1903. Gov. Tod appeared in the senate chamber accompanied by Sergt. Eliza Mason, of Findlay, Co. K. 21st O. V. I. He was one of the famous Andrew raiding party, 23 in all, all of whom were captured and eight of whom were executed. Sergt. Mason was held in Andersonville prison, from which eight of the party escaped. With five others he was exchanged and had come directly to his home in Ohio on a furlough.

The senate suspended business and Gov. Tod, with Sergt. Mason sitting beside the lieutenant governor, the soldier as one of very few non-commissioned officers in the Union army to whom had been given the congressional medal for daring and meritorious service, with a recommendation for promotion. Acting in accordance with the recommendation, the governor thereupon handed Sergt. Mason a commission as lieutenant. As this was done, the senators rose to their feet and stood, applauding enthusiastically at the conclusion of the governor's short address. Then Lieut. Gov. Stanton on behalf of the senate, congratulated Lieut. Mason, and the senate went into recess to afford an opportunity to the members to meet the heroes passing in line before the desk of the presiding officer they each took him by the hand. Andrews, the leader of the raiding party, was a native of Virginia, but entered the military service from Kentucky. The volunteer members of his party came nine from the 21st Ohio; seven from the 33rd Ohio and seven from the 2nd Ohio.

Lieut. Mason was mustered in as a sergeant when the regiment was organized at Findlay. Having returned to the service, Lieut. Mason was captured again in the following September in the battle of Chickamauga. He was discharged from the service, May 13, 1865. In the account of the proceeding in the senate chamber, he is referred to as Eliza H. Mason, but on the roster of his regiment his name appears as Eliza H. Mason.

WINNING REAL FRIENDS BY GIVING REAL SATISFACTION

There can be little doubt of the warm friendship that Oldsmobile and Viking owners accord their cars. For Oldsmobile and Viking owners are quick to express their satisfaction . . . always ready and eager to recommend Oldsmobile and Viking to their friends and neighbors.

Assuredly it takes more than mere close acquaintance with a motor car to build such loyalty. And both Oldsmobile and Viking have that "something more" in a measure above the ordinary.

Brilliant performance—at high speeds or hard pulling—in every phase of motoring. Restful riding comfort and ease of control over every type of road. Continued economy that becomes more apparent as time goes on. Thoroughgoing dependability over the months and the miles.

These are the things that create friendship for Oldsmobile and Viking. These, plus the vitally important factor of honest value.

If you wish to learn more about the qualities of either of these two fine cars, inquire among your friends who drive them. Then come and see Oldsmobile and Viking yourself. Drive them and know what they can do. Prove to your personal satisfaction that each is a great car—a real value—at its price.

MUSCLE SHOALS BILL APPROVED

Government Operation of Project Before House Following Action

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The question of providing for government operation of the huge $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals power project in Alabama and of constructing a new high power dam at Cove Creek in Tennessee, was up to the house today, following passage of the Norris bill by the senate.

The bill, introduced by Senator Norris (R) of Neb., insistent Norris would create a federal corporation to operate the Muscle Shoals project on the Tennessee river and erect the Cove Creek project on the Clinch river, 200 miles away. One effort to provide for private operation of the Shoals project for manufacturing fertilizer, was rejected by the Senate. The bill carried an appropriation of $10,000,000, so that the federal corporation could start immediately.

The Muscle Shoals project, if the house approves and it is signed by President Hoover, would be conducted as a power plant primarily and as a fertilizer experimental station. All surplus power would be sold preferentially to states, cities, towns and associations of farmers, with the power distributed equitably among five adjacent states.

CONGRESS PLANS MERGER PROBES

Trend of Consolidation Causes Restlessness Federal Body

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Congress is growing restless over the increasing trend toward mergers and consolidations of already giant financial and industrial concerns, with the result there is underway a new era of investigation, which may provide legislation.

With the launching of an investigation of railroad holding companies today by the house interstate commerce committee, congressional inquisitorial activity had embraced railroad consolidation, chain banking, the "power trust" and industrial mergers.

Akin to these activities is the fight of a southern bloc for investigation of an alleged cotton seed oil trust and renewed efforts by "farm bloc" members to restrict both grain and cotton exchanges.

Summer Kitchen Relic Of Old Slave Days, Specialist States

The summer kitchen is a relic of the old slave days, asserts Miss Geneva M. Bane, extension specialist in home management for the Ohio State University. Miss Bane declares that no family can afford to equip two kitchens, and "one kitchen with good equipment, arranged to save steps, with light falling on the work rather than on the worker, and good ventilation at all times, is better than all the summer kitchens you can build."

In eight years Miss Bane has visited and scored hundreds of kitchens in Ohio farm homes. At one home the woman who met her at the door inquired "which kitchen do you want to score? I have three."

It developed that one was the regular kitchen, another was the summer kitchen, and the third was a pantry kitchen where an oil stove was occasionally used. "Summer kitchens were started in the years when it was possible to have two or three women to do the housework," says Miss Bane. "We are living in a new age and our kitchens must be one-woman kitchens where the work can be done with the least time and effort possible, for this one woman has other things to do besides her daily household duties. It is she who teaches the Sunday school class, helps with the work of the Ladies Aid and missionary societies, works in the grange, the farm bureau and the Parent Teachers' association, is a leader in extension projects and will have their excuse all ready for his honor. They follow:

The sign said one-hour parking; I was just visiting a friend for a second; someone pushed my car; someone let the air out of my tire; someone turned my lights out.

I was detained by the hair-dresser longer than I expected; my battery "died" on me; my motor just wouldn't start; why I wasn't driving yesterday, I loaned my car to a friend; I lost my keys.

I was only there two minutes; the other guy didn't get a ticket; I lost it; my young boy tore the ticket up; I just ran in to buy a cigar; I thought it was earlier; I was looking for my wife in the store.

I didn't see any signs; I thought the ticket was an advertisement; I ran out of gas; the dentist held me up; my tail light was okay yesterday; I forgot to turn on the lights; I parked there for five years; my watch was wrong.

I was waiting for a girl friend; I just ran in to mail a letter; the doorman said I could park there; I have parked double lots of times; I drove slow and that's as good as stopping; the light was green when I saw it; that patrolman just likes to pick on me.

A policeman let me drive through a zone in other towns; I was only there three minutes; the hotel manager said it was all right to park there all night; I didn't see any ticket on my car; the mud on my plates came from that last rain; my windshield was covered with ice and I couldn't see it; I had my hand out when I turned.

PARTY FACTIONS PREPARE BATTLE

Drive to Remove Huston To Get Under Way In Senate Next Week

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Enjoying a mere lull before the storm, rival party leaders in the senate were frankly concerned today over an impending political war involving the heads of both major and national committees.

A drive to remove Claudius H. Huston as Republican national committee chairman probably will get under way next week when the senate lobby committee files a report on his Muscle Shoals lobbying activities. At the same time, Senator Robinson (R) of Indiana, member of the lobby committee, will try to link John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, a little closer to the affairs of the association against the prohibition amendment.

The Huston case will provide the more sensational developments. The lobby report undoubtedly will go into all of the details of Huston's activities as president of the Tennessee river improvement association, an organization that frankly lobbied for private operation of the Muscle Shoals project. It will deal too with a certain $38,100 fund given Huston for lobbying purposes but used by him on a speculative account with a New York stock broker.

BLAZE DAMAGE REPORTED HEAVY

Chicago, Loop Area Hit By Fire; Traffic Delayed

CHICAGO, April 5.—Fire swept three buildings on the north side of the loop early today, causing damage estimated by Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan at between $200,000 and $300,000. One fourth of the city's fire fighting equipment was called before the blaze was brought under control. Service on the elevated lines was disrupted for a time as the firemen used the platforms to fight the blaze, and street traffic was held up for two hours. An explosion in a radio manufacturing shop is believed to have started the fire.

All sorts of traps were laid in hopes of catching the practical joker, but none could be found finally the search led to the bell itself—there, it was found a breeding pigeon had built a nest around the electric cord leading to the gong. Part of the insulation had torn off and the wire had become entwined with bits of string so that every time the pigeon turned the eggs, a contact was made that rang the bell.

Who told the birds to come back from the south? Who told the buds to re-appear on the trees? Marvelous how nature stoops to the supremacy of God, and how stupidly man rebels against these same realities. The whole Christian world have their thoughts turned upon the Cross of Christ during these days of Lent. We remember that our Lord said: "I must go up to Jerusalem and suffer many things."

STYLE EDICTS

PARIS, April 4.—Frocks will be fearfully feminine this spring and summer, this fact is certainly certain, no matter what wandering waistlines and lines will decide to do.

There are frills and flounces everywhere and exceedingly feminine frills they are. And there is lace by the heap, every bit of it as fine and feminine as one can make it and coming in most bewitching shades. Satins have wondrous sheen and printed chiffons sweetest flower patterns in softest pastel tints.

Frightfully feminine is an ensemble in powder-blue lace, the skirt of pleated tulle ruffles shading from powder to dark blue. The jacket is

THE DAY In Sports

SPORTS AND YOUNGSTERS
NO MORE GANG FIGHTS

"THE BOY OF 1930 is as much different from the youngster of ten years ago as there is difference between the styles a woman wore at that time and now. Youngsters think, act and play differently. They are an entirely different species from the American youth of 1920."

This is the statement made Friday afternoon by a former star Salem athlete in an open forum discussion of great changes in various activities. The discussion was centered mainly on athletics and this brought up the above statement.

It developed, during the briefest, that the boy of 19 to 14 years of age really is much different than the type that was roaming the streets of this city a few years back, and it also developed that the real reason for this great change might well be traced to athletics.

TEN YEARS AGO the youngster had his games but they consisted mostly of the backyard and alley type. The old-time "commie" game that was the feature of this time of the year just two or three years ago is gone. The battles of 20 years ago between the east and west-ends of the city, always good for a few blacked eyes and bruised noses, have become past. These, and the inter-city football and baseball games, were always big events for the lads then.

MEMBERS OF THE old Limerick gang here used to battle with other gangs of the city in all sports and these frays were depicted by mothers as real perils for the youngsters. A mother or father generally accompanied their son in a visit to another, rival section of the city, for woe to the lad that was discovered in a foreign territory by himself.

"Kids today don't have time for marble games and gang fights. They chase right home from school, get their chores done and then chase to the Memorial building for a basketball game. Or they go directly from school to the gym and indulge in friendly debates on the cage court with lads from the east or west end and fights are few and far between," the old-timer stated.

SPORTS HAVE TAKEN a prominent part in the mind of every average youngster. The Memorial building is in the main responsible for this but then too, another big reason is the fact that Salem High of late has had such extraordinarily strong athletic teams that most boys make it one of their life's ambitions to win a place on future teams. The award of an "8" to many a high school lad has created a bunch of happiness and renewed interest in things of the better class.

WHEN LOWELL ALLEN started breaking records in the pole vault groups of boys could be seen erecting miniature standards in back lots and trying to scale into the air with a bean-pole. Others vied to make attacks on distance track records after performances of other star Salem runners. Many became interested in basketball after the Red and Black won the right to compete in the state meet in Columbus in 1927.

TEMPERATURES vary a lot these spring days—warm one hour, chilly the next. It is then that foods must be especially well protected to keep them fresh and flavorful, and for the well-iced refrigerator will stay fresh and pure. The temperature is at a constant low cold, and the air neither too moist nor too dry, but just right to keep foods in prime condition.

Where there are children in the family, it is particularly important that there be a plentiful supply of ice in the ice box all the time. Their vigorous young bodies must depend on food that is pure and healthful.

City Champs Display Strong Offensive To Annex 28-20 Decision

Salem's leading representatives in sandlot basketball competition, the Golden Eagles, brought the 1929-30 season here to a close with a 28-20 victory over the strong Columbus Athletic club of Youngstown at the Memorial building Friday night.

It was not at all an appropriate close to this city's basketball activities for the past season. What was scheduled as a classy cage carnival of three games turned out to be an ordinary affair of one fairly good game and a second of little color whatever.

Two of the teams billed for participation in preliminary games against Salem teams failed to put in an appearance.

The Columbus invaded the Salem gym with a coterie of former Raven High school basketball and football stars and put up a strong game throughout and succumbed only after the championship quintet was forced to extend itself to the limit and flash an unusually strong combined defensive and offensive game.

Lack of interest in the struggle on the part of both teams ruined the event for the small gathering of fans present for it was a drab and slow affair most of the way.

Columbus Lead
Youngstown held a 5-2 lead at the first quarter but the Golden Eagle stepped ahead by a 12-9 score at the half. The Salem cagers added to this lead in the third session and coasted through to the victory in late minutes of the final period.

Rob Allen was the outstanding performer for the Eagles while W. Carney, O'Neil and Cumiskey starred for Youngstown.

Salemville failing to show up for the curtain-raiser against the Salem China team, the Pottery played Salem High freshmen and lost by a 36-32 score. Youngstown Comets, billed to oppose the McArthur Florists Junior, also failed to show up.

Two Salem Bowling Teams Roll High Tourney Scores

Member of Masonic Team Wins Prize For High Individual Game

Two Salem bowling combinations—Knights of Columbus and Masonic teams—finished in the money for high scores rolled in the inter-city tenpin tournament on Sebring alleys this week.

The K. of C. team finished third in five-man rankings with a score of 2834 while the Masons were fourth with a 2785 score. Greb Bakers of Alliance, rolling a 3019 score with handicap of 100 pins per game, took first prize.

Virgil Baker, member of the Salem Masonic outfit, took first prize in individual contest, crashing the maples for a 237 score. The Leonard Hardware five, Alliance, topped bowling for high team, single-game score with a 1028 and also took second in three-game rankings with a 2943.

The Knights of Columbus team has practically clinched titular honors in the Sebring inter-city league, being eight games ahead of the runner-up as a result of an easy victory registered at the expense of the Pennsylvania lines of Sebring Thursday night. Summary of this game follows:

READ THE WANT COLUMN

for Economical Transportation

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First: Which car gives the most for my money?

Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—for six cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the whole chassis, the body, the passengers, and the driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. Its big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain at any speed.

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Efficient design makes this possible—overhead valves—high compression power from any fuel—very latest high-acceleration carburetor—close-fitting, long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your ideal of truly modern transportation.

Chevrolet economy is also the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and adjustable. This saves replacing valves, and also makes it possible to preserve efficiency.

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining—reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the new Chevrolet Six. This makes it unnecessary to take the axle apart to examine it or clean it.

With modern low suspension and extra wheelbase, the Chevrolet Six has excellent proportions.

Its impressive front view is distinguished by the genuine honeycomb radiator, another mark of modern cars.

The gasoline tank is in the rear, for safety and finer appearance.

Chevrolet beauty instantly says "Body by Fisher"—costly car style, with the permanent quiet of Fisher composite steel-and-wood construction.

Body by Fisher also gives you a genuine non-glare windshield, adjustable driver's seat, more space, deeper cushions, clearer vision, finer fabrics and fittings.

There is just as much extra value everywhere in the car. BY ANY STANDARD the Chevrolet Six is the greatest value in the low-price field.

It is wise to choose the Chevrolet Six with its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor... with full scientific equipment... with its Body by Fisher... with four long semi-elliptic springs, long wheelbase, low suspension, rear-mounted gasoline tank, honeycomb radiator and all the many other features of this day and age.

See your nearest Chevrolet dealer today and drive a Chevrolet Six. Ten minutes at the wheel will show you what a remarkable difference six cylinders make.

MOVIES

Bell's Hawaiian, a troupe of entertaining musicians, give their last display of talents imported to the United States as an outstanding means of entertainment for audiences in this country, at the Grand theater tonight.

The Hawaiian troupe features songs from both their native land and current song productions featured in late talking motion pictures. The songs, however, and the instrumental playing, are a mere sideline to the attraction for a young miss styled "Baby Bobby" grab the spotlight and holds it in her short appearance in the act. Singing of the male characters is far from an outstanding event and the young miss and an older sister save the affair from approaching the "flop" point.

A stage show, billed as the best of its type produced in years, has been arranged for appearance here next Thursday. It is "Bringing Up Father" in New York City. An array of feminine pulchritude of first class and an excellent program of humorous events is carded to make the show the week's biggest event at the Grand.

"Disraeli" Coming
But even "Bringing Up Father" is surpassed in greatness by the all-talking feature "Disraeli" which plays at the State for two days—Monday and Tuesday next week. George Arliss, probably the stage's greatest character player, and the man that made the show of the same name an internationally famous production, plays the leading role.

Opposite Arliss is cast Miss Joan Bennett, daughter of Richard Bennett, himself a noted screen actor and father of a group of noted actresses. Joan, his youngest daughter, has already eclipsed performance of her father in her portrayal in "Bringing Up Father" and was acclaimed of experts in "Disraeli".

The full week's schedule of theater shows follows:

AT THE STATE
Monday, Tuesday — "Disraeli", comedy, News.
Wednesday, Thursday — "Wedding Rings", two comedies.

Friday, Saturday — "In the Next Room", two comedies, screen song.

AT THE GRAND
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday — "Behind the Makeup", comedy, screen act, revue.

Thursday — "Bringing Up Father", Friday, Saturday — "Romance of the Rio Grande", News, comedy.

"Disraeli" is playing New York theaters at $2 a seat and should crowd the State to capacity each night of its showing here. Each of the other coming features are classy attractions but are surpassed in greatness by the Arliss-Bennett vehicle. Hal Skelly makes his appearance in "Behind the Makeup" and Olive Borden, H. B. Warner and Lois Wilson are starred in "Wedding Rings". Jack Mulhall and Alice Day head a great cast in "In the Next Room" and Warner Baxter and Antonio Moreno star in "Romance of the Rio Grande."

CANTON TO SHOW PASSION DRAMA

City Auditorium Will Be Scene of Production
April 20-26

The Freiburg Passion play, sponsored by Canton chapter, Order of DeMolay, is scheduled to appear in Canton, April 20 to 26, inclusive. Already mail orders are coming in from a distance of 100 miles. The production is to be given at the city auditorium, with extensive stage improvements. In fact, the entire end of the auditorium will be reconstructed, so that the great master settings will appear just as they were in the big New York Hippodrome.

The effect produced by the unique and impressive production of the Passion Play, from Freiburg, upon a person witnessing a performance, makes it seem more like an actual happening, instead of a mere stage production. So earnest are its actors, so realistic its settings that a profound feeling of awe and reverence seems to settle over the entire audience, which is in itself an inspiration to the players. Many a heart has been touched by witnessing a performance of this ever new drama which we have all learned in the days of our childhood and many have been seen to weep during its touching scenes.

It opens as "The Christ" enters Jerusalem and follows Him step by step, until His glorious resurrection. The company is headed by three members of the famous Fasnacht family, from Freiburg. Georg Fasnacht, junior, appearing in his famous role of "The Christ," in which he gives a beautiful interpretation of the "Master." Augusta Fasnacht, the mother of Georg, appears as "Mary, the Mother of Jesus" and Georg Fasnacht, Sr., plays the part of "Judas," in which he gives a realistic performance of the betrayer of the "Master." A cast of 39 Freiburgers is augmented by a chorus and an ensemble of 300.
